DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

I. Claims 1-29, 36-40, drawn to methods of screening for prolactin polymorphisms associated with litter size, classified in class 435, subclass 6.

II. Claim 30, 34, drawn to primers and DNAs associated with prolacin, classified in class 536, subclass 24.3.

III. Claims 31-34, drawn to alleles, classified in class 702, subclass 20.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions in Group I and in Groups II and III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case, the primer products of Group II can be used to screen for prolactin polymorphisms, to amplify the prolactin gene for gene expression studies, to inhibit prolactin expression by antisense inhibition or to purify prolactin nucleic acids by affinity chromatography. The alleles of Group III, which are informational products, can be used in the litter size analysis of Group I or in linkage disequilibrium studies on other pig genes or to identify particular chromosomes of the pig.

3. Inventions in Group II and in Group III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are unrelated because the alleles are structurally and functionally different from the primers. The first is information and the second is a physical product. Further, the allele is itself associated with a phenotype while the primer has no such association. So these products differ in effect as well.

4. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

Species I – Alu I restriction site, SEQ ID NO:s 1 and 2

Species II – HinFI restriction site, SEQ ID NO:s 8 and 9

Species III – MseI restriction site, SEQ ID NO:s 12 and 13

Species IV – HypCH4IV restriction site, SEQ ID Nos: 10 and 11

Species V – SEQ ID NO: 3

Species VI – SEQ ID NO: 4

Species VII – SEQ ID NO: 5

Species VIII- SEQ ID NO: 6

Species IX – SEQ ID NO: 7.

Species X – DNA marker SW1305

Species XI – DNA marker S0077

Species XII – DNA marker S0006

Species XIII – DNA marker SW2411

Species XIV – DNA marker SW1035

Species XV – DNA marker S0111

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1-3, 8-11, 27, 28, 31, 36, 37, and 38 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

6. A telephone call was made to Wendy Marsh on September 11, 2002 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
